GREAT MEN WHO HAVE PROVED ZAM-BUK.

Scientist, Analyst, Magistrate, and War Correspondent All Testify.

Men and women great in point of knowledge, position and experience, say that Zam-Buk stands superior to all other healing substances. Read the opinions of the following eminent men:

Mr. C. E. Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N.S., a magistrate, a School Commissioner, and Baptist Deacon, says: "Zam-Buk cured me of eczema on my ankle, which had defied every other remedy tried during twenty years. It also cured me of piles; and I take pleasure in recommending it to my fellow-men."

Mr. Frank Scudamore, the famous war correspondent, who has gone through twenty-nine battles, and whose dispatches during the Boer War were so eagerly read from coast to coast in Canada, says: "Owing to the poisonous dysentery from an undergarment penetrating a slight scratch, my legs broke out in ulcers. At one time I had seventeen deep holes in my left leg, into each of which I could put my thumb, and had fourteen similar ulcers on my right leg. Remedy after remedy failed to heal these, and I was well nigh worn out with pain and lack of sleep. Then Zam-Buk was introduced, and I am glad to say that it gave me speedy relief. A few weeks' treatment resulted in a perfect cure of all the ulcers."

Dr. Andrew Wilson, whose reputation as a scientist is worldwide, in a special recently published ("Homeside Talks on First-Aid") says:—"Zam-Buk may be relied upon as an infallible dressing which requires no preparation, and has the particular advantage of possessing unique and valuable properties."

Mr. W. Lascelles-Scott, the famous analyst to the Government, says:—"I have used Zam-Buk in certifying the entire purity of Zam-Buk. It is of great healing power for open wounds or cuts, and is also used for eczema, colds, chapped hands, chapped faces, scalp sores, ringworm, blood-poisoning, and eczema. It is also used extensively for piles, for which it is without equal. All druggists and post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. You are warned against harmful imitations."

Mrs. Belle De Rivera, whose special knowledge of New York public school life made her famous, says:—"I am glad to approve a substance so well suited to children."

One concerned with a small boy's winter hatred of cold water, says:—"His teacher," began Mrs. De Rivera, "said one morning to a little boy."

"Jimmy, I'm ashamed of you. Your cheeks are all black and sticky. Go to the hydrant and get some water." Jimmy went out to the hydrant, returned his wash rag and rubbed soap over it. Then in his hand, he returned to the school room.

"Which cheek did you say?" he inquired.—Rockeater Herald.

"My youngest boy, 3 years old, was sick with fever last June, and when he got better the doctor prescribed Scott's Emulsion, and he liked it so well that he drank it out of the bottle, and is now just as plump and strong as any child of his age anywhere. . . . 2 bottles fixed him O.K."—MR. JOHN F. TEDDER, Box 263, Teague-Freestone Co., Texas.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is the greatest help for babies and young children there is. It just fits their need; it just suits their delicate, sensitive natures; they thrive on it. Just a little does them so much good and saves you so much worry. You owe it to them and yourself to make them as strong and healthy as possible. Scott's Emulsion will help you better than anything else; but be sure to get Scott's. It's the best, and there are so many worthless imitations.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Mr. Tedder has just written me another letter about Scott's Emulsion. . . . Get an emulsion and know all the information on the subject. A Post Card, mentioning this notice, is sufficient.

London Graphic on the G.T.P.

A descriptive article of more than passing interest, and which should prove of incalculable value, appears in the London Graphic of December 15, 1908. Under the caption, "Girdling the Earth with an All-Canada Route," some salient facts and features of the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway are depicted with pen and camera. Touching on the importance of the All-Canada Transcontinental as a connecting land link in the altered scheme, the writer proceeds to show the important part the new road is taking in the opening up and development of a new and immense area of country rich in natural resources.

What would probably be of even more interest to the readers of The Graphic across the seas, are the excellent views which accompany the article, which show the first land-seekers' excursion train, a glimpse of the town of Rivers and of Nokomis, and several interesting scenes in and around Prince Rupert. The views of the town of Rivers and of Nokomis, and several interesting scenes in and around Prince Rupert. The views of the town of Rivers and of Nokomis, and several interesting scenes in and around Prince Rupert.

The article which The Graphic produces will no doubt bring a clearer realization to many distant readers of the immense strides in railway building that is taking place in Canada to the benefit of the entire possibilities of capital and labor in producing wealth in this great country of ours.

A Passion For Old Hats.

The number of islands known as the Nicobar, about 150 miles known as the Andamans, has been a little explored, but the manners and customs of the inhabitants offer a most interesting peculiarity to the ethnologist. It is the passion for old hats. Young and old, chief and subject alike, endeavor to outdo one another in the absurdity of shoe no more than the number of old hats they can acquire during their lifetime. On a fine morning in the Nicobar it is unusual thing to see the surface of the ocean in the vicinity of the islands dotted over with canoes, each with a tall white hat with a black band, may be watched cutting the air for his daily meal. Second hand hats are in most request, new ones being looked upon with suspicion and disfavor.—January Wide World Magazine.

Renet it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

"Does the baby talk yet?" asked a friend of the family. "No," replied the baby's disgruntled little brother. "No," replied the baby's disgruntled little brother. "Doesn't he need to talk?" "No," replied the baby's disgruntled little brother. "Doesn't he need to talk?" "No," replied the baby's disgruntled little brother.

BARONETS IN POVERTY.

Two Are Cashmen, One an Innkeeper and One a Tobaccoist.

So far as baronets are concerned, being lower in grade than a peerage, there are a number of men who have successfully made good their claims, but still have to work for their living. For instance, says an English publication, Sir Thomas Tyrrell of Burton-on-Trent, who traces his descent from the Sir Walter Tyrrell, whose arrow killed William Rufus in the New Forest, is a cabman.

There is also a cabman at Hobart, in Tasmania, who rejoices in the name of Sir George Augustus Jervis Morely, eleventh baronet. Burke's Peerage recognizes him, and that is half the battle. But there is no property. Sir Harry Vervetout Goring may be found any day in the week serving halfpenny packets of workmen's tobacco over a little counter at Tamworth. In the pottery district, and Sir Henry Eshin is the landlord of the Rose and Crown Inn at Woodburn Green, near Buckingham Palace.

Before Sir Henry took to serving beer he was a footman, although he has descended from an ancient Irish family whose estates have been dissipated, as so many Irish estates have been before now, leaving him nothing but the barren title, which occasionally attracts to the Rose and Crown idle curiosity seekers who wish to see a real baronet serving bitter beer to laborers. The superintendent of the Whitley Union workhouse is Sir John Lawson, whose ancestors were made baronets some hundreds of years ago.

Happy School Days.

Tommy was about to leave the school where he had spent his first years. He went to the teacher to say goodbye and added: "I am a fully sworn to leave this school. I had such good times at recess."—Lippincott's.

Encouraging.

The Editor:—Johnny, your parlor clock is an hour fast. The Kid Brother:—I know it, but don't tell sister so. The Editor:—Why not? The Kid Brother:—Because she thinks you don't know it.

TRY THIS FOR YOUR COUGH

Mix two ounces of Glycerine with a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and a half pint of distilled water. Shake well, and take in doses of a teaspoonful every four hours. This mixture possesses the healing, expectorant properties of the Pines, and will break a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable. In having this formula put up, state that your druggist give the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, prepared and guaranteed only by the Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont.

Reporter:—But, Senator, in a Government like yours don't you believe in the principle of rotation in office? Senator:—I certainly do, young man. That's why I have a revolving chair in my office.—Chicago Tribune.

The Bowels Must Act Healthily.—In most ailments the first care of the medical man is to see that the bowels are open and fully performing their functions. Parula Vegetable Pills are so compounded that certain ingredients in them act on the bowels slowly and they are the very best medicine to produce healthy action of the bowels. Indeed, there is no other medicine so serviceable in keeping the digestive organs in healthy action.

It is estimated that there are always 4,000,000 people at sea.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

"Gee, but it's hot!" cried Mr. Sizer, mopping his brow. "Where is Tommy?" "Out flying his kite," replied Mrs. Sizer. "Well, Vegetables, for goodness sake, tell him to stop it!" roared Sizer. "The idea of using up what money there is on such nonsense."—Scottish American.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

A BLESSING TO CHILDREN

A medicine that will keep babies and young children plump and good natured, sleep well and play well, is a blessing not only to the little ones but to mothers as well. Baby's Own Tablets is just such a medicine. They cure all the minor ailments of children and make them eat, sleep well and play well. Thousands of mothers use the Tablets and praise them. Mrs. Lorenzo Koenig, Lake Talon, Que., says:—"I cannot say too much for Baby's Own Tablets. I have proved their value in colic, constipation and other childhood troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"A Turkish bath is such an excellent thing," remarked Miss Tartan, "that I have often wished these people would take one occasionally."—Chicago Tribune.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

"Guinness's."

Guinness's stout and Lord Iveagh who will celebrate his sixtieth birthday on November 10th, are necessarily inseparable, but so are Lord Iveagh and Guinness. For Guinness's stout has made Lord Iveagh one of the richest men in the world and Lord Iveagh has chosen to be one of the most charitable. The debt of gratitude which dear, dirty Dublin owes to his lordship can never be repaid, and in spite of his immense wealth, he is still content to work at his Guinness. Often one may see him walking briskly from his house on St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, to the splendid block of buildings on the south side of the Liffey, where Guinness's stout comes from. Next to philanthropy, his lordship's chief hobby is collecting art treasures and sport. Lord Iveagh, he the way, belongs to the "one big brigade" that went out with the guns. He invariably goes out shooting bareheaded, and it is said that the only time he has been seen with his head covered, while in pursuit of game, was on the occasion when a certain distinguished peer was so surprised to see his lordship standing bareheaded in the rain that he knotted his handkerchief at the four corners, and insisted on placing it on Lord Iveagh's unprotected brow.

The Order of Fools.

April 1 is not the only fools' day of the year. On November 12, 1381, the Order of Fools was instituted by Adolphus, count of Cleves.

Members were not by any means idiots, however, for the word had a different meaning then. They were the prototype of our modern Order of Foresters or Odd Fellows, doing a similarly benevolent work. Their insignia consisted of a mantle, upon the left shoulder of which was embroidered a jester, or fool, in cap and bells, yellow hose and silver vest. So these cheery, useful jokers had a bright, happy outlook upon life and met together to dispense the earnest of their healthier existence at stated intervals, the chief day of which was Nov. 12.—London Chronicle.

A New Manitoba Strawberry.

A new strawberry, originated in Manitoba, has been placed on the market this year by the Buchanan Nursery Co., of Winnipeg. This is the first new Manitoba variety of strawberry to be offered that we know of. Mr. Buchanan has produced many new varieties of strawberries, as well as new varieties of other fruits but this is the first one that has been offered to the public. The new berry is described as being of extra large size, productive, of good quality, especially for home use. The plant is a strong grower and hearty. The new berry is a cross of the Crescent and Sharpless. Write to the Buchanan Nursery, St. Charles, Man., for further information about this new fruit.

"Being in a hurry to get home from the theatre a few days ago, I walked to the corner of King Street," Mr. George Alexander says. "An old cabman with his hansom was the first on the rank, but I shook my head at him and called a taxicab."

"As I approached it the hansom cabbie said, 'So, Mr. A., you've no use for 'esses now, but you'll have to 'ave one to take you on the 'ave you buried?' I went home in that hansom after all."—Era Annual.

It Testifies for Itself.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Balm, no testimony of its powers other than itself. Whoever tries it for coughs or colds, for cuts or contusions, for sprains or burns, for pains in the limbs or body, will find that the medicine proves itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

The inspector was examining Standard I, and all the class had been specially told beforehand by their master. "Don't answer unless you are almost certain your answer is correct."

History was the subject. "Now, tell me," said the inspector, who was the mother of our great Scottish hero, Robert Bruce?"

He pointed to the top boy, then round the class. Then at last the heart of the teacher of that class leapt with joy. The boy was standing in the very foot had held up his hand.

"Well, my boy," said the inspector, encouragingly. "Who was Robert Bruce?" "Bruce," said the boy. "Philadelphia Inquirer."

A Good Clean-up

Didsbury appears to be undergoing a regular spring house cleaning so far as rounding up high fingered gentry are concerned, and there cannot be too much of it done. We are getting an unenviable notoriety over these cases but it is something like having a pestilence around the place, it needs heroic measures while it lasts but after it is done we will be able to live in security for awhile longer and feel that we are safe at least from some of these miscreants. Credit should be given to Constable Vernon for the very able manner in which the cases have been handled and the town should congratulate itself in having a man in its pay who will let nothing stand in his way for preserving law and order in the community, and keeping the confidence of the people who deal in our town, more power to him. It is to be hoped that if we have any more of this kind of gentry in our neighborhood that they will take warning and either reform their ways or go where their company is more desired, because if they do not the authorities are determined to make them.

The next time that there are prisoners in the lock-up it is to be hoped that no one only those who are allowed to do so by the Justice of the Peace will be allowed to go in and see them. A great deal of morbid curiosity was exhibited one afternoon last week in one of the prisoners confined in the lock-up by several who ought to have known better. It almost looked like a hen times one reads about when they pilloried their prisoners for a laughing stock of the whole community. A prisoner is only human and anything of this kind only tends to humiliate him. Of course, some will say that the prisoner had no business to be put in the position he was in. But there was some excuse for this. The building was not finished and only one cell was finished for occupancy, and that was occupied by another prisoner. The locks had not been put on the outside doors of the hall and the constable had no way of keeping out those who had no business there while he was away, but the good sense of the public should have been their guide.

Clerk Eby Resigns

The Town Council met on Monday night at the Board-room in the school-house. Mayor Corlitt, Councilors Hunsperger, Good, Osmond, Hembling, Moyer, Clerk Eby and Solicitor Macleod being present.

The first matter of business taken up was a communication from Slynor Dunley Co., of Toronto, whose bid for debentures was accepted, in which they stated their solicitor objected to the by law passed by the ratepayers as in their opinion two bylaws should be made instead of one. The meaning of this is that a by law for the purchase of fire engines and equipment should have been made separate from that for money for building sidewalks, etc.

The Council discussed the matter at some length with the Solicitor who stated that so far as he had been able to find there was no such regulations in the ordinance.

On motion it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Solicitor and Clerk to go into and have another meeting to take up this matter again.

Clerk Eby then handed in his resignation as Town Clerk, at the same time stating that he was going into another line of business and would be away from town.

Moved by Councillor Hembling and Osmond that the resignation be accepted and that the Council place on record their appreciation of Mr. Eby's past services as Town Clerk. Carried.

An application was received from Mr. J. M. Reed for the position of Town Clerk.

Barley Raising

TO EDITOR OF PIONEER:

Dear Sir:—Now that seedling time has come round again I should like to express my views on a subject that has occupied my thoughts for some time, namely, the raising of barley in large quantities for export, by which we can give that amount of attention to the soil, seeing that the seed is choice, and free from foul seeds.

In the past it has only been a makeshift crop, using up a piece of land on which it has been to late to get in oats, very often only disked in on oat stubble, the outcome of which can of course be only a mixture of oats and barley, and as such, only useful as feed.

There should be no reason why the serious cultivation of barley should be one of the best paying propositions to the grain grower, especially as there will be an unlimited demand for really first-class barley for malting, food stuffs, and exportation both in the Western States and in South America.

Now that the grain can be and is carried from the two most western provinces to the Pacific coast at a much lower rate than via the eastern route, it places Alberta in a fine position to cater to the wants of the barley as well as the wheat exporter.

I am, Dear Sir,

Yours very truly,
W. G. HUNTER.

Golden Text, "Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." 1 Cor. 15: 20.

Lesson, 1 Cor. 15, 12 to 28. "The Risen Saviour."

(1) Origin of the Easter Festival. In the days of early Britain certain festivals were held sacred throughout the course of the year. When Christianity was introduced these same festivals were continued but a new meaning was read into them. To the early Briton Easter was a season of joy because of the awakening of nature, the resurrection of plants, life, etc. To the Briton converted to Christianity Easter continued as a season of joy. But instead of fixing the mind upon the resurrection in nature he centres it upon the resurrection of Christ. He thinks of the one who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light by giving us a new sense of the lightness of life, showing its essentially Divine nature and its wondrous possibilities. He sees from the joyous hope that the trees shall blossom and again yield their luscious fruits, to the still more joyous hope that though his outward man perish he shall triumph over death, rise to a fuller life, and have life more abundantly.

(2) The belief in immortality. Verses 12 to 28. Men everywhere have for a life to come. Reason and spiritual consciousness demand a fulfillment of that hope. If God is what Christ revealed Him to be, then this life is not the end; if God is Father, all loving and perfect, then this world cannot be his final thought and this life must be supplemented in order that it may be perfected. God's character warrants our belief that the grave is not the final decree for man, that this life is but a beginning, that in Christ even though we die we shall live again. So we may trust our intuitions, trust the insight of the great masters and trust the discernment of the Christ of God. If Christ be risen, does it not naturally follow that all human beings shall rise? If Christ be risen is our faith vain?

Would not Christianity, even if it were shorn of its doctrine of the resurrection, still be good thing for man? Ought we not to love the good and do the right for their own sakes without being influenced over much by prospects of future rewards and punishment?

(3) Some results of the resurrection. Verses 20 to 28. Result (a) The disciples disciples who at the Crucifixion feared Christ and fled, after the resurrection became the most courageous of all men, denying self to crown their Lord. Can you explain this? Result (b) In Christ all are made alive. How are all to be made alive? What kind of life does God give in Christ? Result (c) Christ REIGNS until death is put under the feet of God.

What do you mean by death? What do you mean by the Resurrection? When you speak of immortality, what is it in us that is immortal? Emerson says "Character alone is immortal; not what we HAVE but what we ARE is enduring." The work of a man which is going to live is that which has cost him a part of himself.

Thieves Rounded Up

Constable Vernon made another arrest on Wednesday last of the men connected with the recent flour-stealing case. As was reported in last week's Pioneer that some grain and other goods had been taken from a C.P.R. car and on account of the flour being stolen suspicion was attached to the station parties who were connected with the flour stealing. Constable Vernon, Detective Grierson of the C.P.R., and Const. Basson of the R.N.W.M.P., of Calgary, went out to the Bearberry Valley to Fry's homestead and made a raid, finding the grain and several other articles that had been stolen from town in the last two years. Some of the stuff was found at Fry's and some at Conway's. The police did not make any arrests at first but came back to town to verify the goods, and Constable Vernon returned to the Valley and arrested Fry but found that Mackey had fled the country. Fry was brought to town with the goods found and on Friday evening was brought before Justices Peterson and Atkins for a preliminary hearing. The charge laid was that he took 32 bushels of oats and a box of soap from a C.P.R. car. The M.P. asked to have the prisoner remanded for seven days to allow witnesses for both sides to appear at Didsbury. Mr. Macleod, acting for the defendant, concerned and the Justices remanded the case till next Friday.

Another case of stealing oats also came up last week before the Justices and the man was committed for trial at Calgary.

Conway, the man who stole the flour, came up for trial at Calgary last week and having pleaded guilty, an alibi in extenuation, was sentenced to three months in the Mount ed Police barracks at Calgary.

Grain Rate War

As mentioned in the grain department of The Commercial, this issue, there is promise of exciting times on the Great Lakes soon. During the past couple of seasons Montreal has made such rapid strides in grain shipping at the expense of the United States shipping trade, that the Uncle Sam carriers are cutting the rates in a desperate attempt to regain the lost traffic. Since this state of affairs has come about, Canadians will cut prices too, and a sea saw slaughter of rates may bring the prices per bush, between Fort William to Montreal down to a very small figure. It was estimated that at the rate per bush that was in effect last summer the boats had but a small margin, and if that was the case they will lose money on the rates predicted for the coming opening of navigation.

It is expected that boats returning from Montreal to Fort William and Port Arthur will carry enormous quantities of merchandise this season, and they can better afford to cut down the grain rate. Last year the United States vessel owners put forward the explanation that they were carrying grain at the lowest remunerative rate, and that the responsibility for cutting the through rate still lower must rest with the United States trunk line railroads. These have this year responded to the appeals of the vessel owners, agreed to cut their rates so low that the through rate to New York by West will now be less than the through rate to Montreal last year. The vessel owners are to divert from the St. Lawrence route to the New York route as much as possible of the carrying trade that went to Montreal last year. It has not taken the Canadian railway men long to announce what their policy is to be. The freight traffic manager of the Grand Trunk Railway says his company have already met the lower rate of the U.S. trunk lines with a rate of four cents a bushel from Georgian Bay ports to Montreal; what they will do in the future he is not prepared to say, probably that will depend on the regularity of the U.S. trunk lines, and they have now the rate. Last year the rate on the Grand Trunk was five cents instead of four. Further developments will be awaited with great interest. — Commercial.

He Bought Books

A man who had never had the time or opportunity to get much book learning suddenly became wealthy. He gave up work, built himself a fine house and settled down to enjoy life. Recollecting his early and unanswered longing for books, he went to a shop to order some. The Voter tells the story:

"I want a lot of books," he said to the clerk.

"What kind of books?" was the question.

"Why, books," said the prospective purchaser; "good books you know."

The books came and were installed in the library. Soon after an old friend slightly more learned than the rich man came to call.

HANFORD'S BALSAM OF MYRRH

This balsam is, without any doubt the best healer on the market, being a liquid, it also makes a splendid cure for horses' shoulders and is better than salve. The salve gathers a lot of dirt on the face of the horse collar and is inclined to hurt the shoulder unless watched very closely.

TRY A BOTTLE OF THIS BALSAM

If these goods are not what we represent them to be, we will gladly refund your money upon receipt of your empty bottle. Bottles in three sizes, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

"Here, Hugh," said the host, "is my library. Here is where I intend to sit down with my books and read."

Hugh took down a book, looked at it and put it back; took down another, looked at it and put it back, and repeated the process several times. Then he asked:

"John where did you get these books?"

"Oh, I bought them; just bought them. What's the matter? Aren't they good books? I haven't read them yet."

"They're good books," was the reply, "but they're all the same. John, as near as I can figure roughly, you have bought 600 copies of the Fifth Reader. It's a good book, but there's far too many of it here—far too many." Exchange.

Distress From Upset Stomach

Take your sour stomach or move you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas, or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacy and ask him to open a 50 cent case of Pope's Digestive and let you eat one 22-grain Tablet and see if within five minutes there is any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—bad, souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble and nothing tempts you, or you heave gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Dipepsin.
